Trade Offs to Consider

- Large footprint limits small spaces
- Charcoal-only means longer heat setup
- 88 lb weight needs two people

Users Say

● POSITIVES

- ✓ Spacious cooking area handles many guests
- ✓ Two charcoal trays simplify heat control
- ✓ Foldable side tables add prep space

● COMPLAINTS

- ⚠ Heavy to move once assembled
- ⚠ Assembly can be time consuming
- ⚠ No gas option limits versatility

How It Compares

- Larger than standard kettle grills
- More adjustable heat than simple grills
- Less portable than cart or tabletop grills

Choose This If...

- ✓ You host frequent large outdoor gatherings
- ✓ You want flexible charcoal heat control
- ✓ You need large cooking and warming space

Skip This If...
