Who It Is For

- ✓ Hosts who cook for groups outdoors
- ✓ Cooks wanting charcoal smoke flavor
- ✓ People who want built-in offset smoker
- ✓ Users comfortable assembling large grills

Who It Is Not For

- ✗ Apartment or condo residents with restrictions
- ✗ Buyers who prefer gas or electric grills
- ✗ Campers needing compact portable grills
- ✗ Users unwilling to clean charcoal ash

Trade Offs to Consider

- Large footprint needs backyard space
- Charcoal fuel requires prep and ash cleanup
- Assembly required and may take time
- Slower heat adjustments than gas

How It Compares

- Vs kettle charcoal: much larger capacity
- Vs gas grills: slower startup but smokier flavor
- Vs pellet smokers: less automation more hands on

Choose This If...

- ✓ You need large capacity charcoal grilling
- ✓ You want a built-in offset smoker
- ✓ You have outdoor space and assembly ability

Skip This If...

- ✗ You need a compact portable grill
- ✗ You prefer gas or electric convenience
- ✗ You avoid regular charcoal cleanup
