Who It Is For

-  Homeowners who host large backyard gatherings
-  Cooks who use rotisserie for whole poultry
-  People wanting high sear capability for steaks
-  Buyers who prefer low-maintenance porcelain grates

Who It Is Not For

-  Apartment balconies or small patios
-  Frequent campers or tailgaters needing portable grill
-  Users seeking charcoal smoking flavor
-  Anyone unwilling to assemble heavy grills

Trade Offs to Consider

---

-  Large footprint needs ample outdoor space
-  High BTUs use more propane per hour
-  Heavy steel frame is hard to move
-  Included rotisserie increases assembly steps

Users Say

---

● POSITIVES

- ✓ 770 sq in cooking space
- ✓ Porcelain-coated cast iron grates
- ✓ Includes rotisserie kit and adapter hose

● COMPLAINTS

- ⚠ Heavy about 124 pounds
- ⚠ Takes significant patio space
- ⚠ Assembly required after delivery

How It Compares

- Larger cooking area than small portable grills
- Does not produce charcoal smoke flavor
- Partial stainless finish versus full-stainless models

Choose This If...

- ✓ You need a large-capacity gas grill for gatherings
- ✓ You want rotisserie plus a high-heat searing burner
- ✓ You value porcelain-coated grates for easier cleaning

Skip This If...

- ✗ You lack space for a large freestanding grill
- ✗ You prefer charcoal grilling or smoky flavor
- ✗ You need a lightweight portable grill
