Who It Is For

---

- ✓ Cooks feeding four or more people
- ✓ Home cooks seeking restaurant-style sear marks
- ✓ Users who cook on grills or stovetops
- ✓ Campers or tailgaters needing a portable griddle

Who It Is Not For

- ✗ Buyers who need dishwasher-safe cookware
- ✗ Users who prefer lightweight pans
- ✗ Those wanting plug-in electric griddle controls

Trade Offs to Consider

- Excellent heat retention but heavy to lift
- Pre-seasoned surface still needs occasional oiling
- Hand wash required not dishwasher safe

Users Say

---

● POSITIVES

- ✓ Large cooking area for group meals
- ✓ Reversible design for searing and griddling
- ✓ Even heating across the surface

● COMPLAINTS

- ⚠ Heavy to move when hot
- ⚠ Requires hand washing and maintenance
- ⚠ Needs ongoing seasoning care

How It Compares

---

- Versus a skillet: much larger flat cooking surface
- Versus electric griddle: no power required portable use
- Versus coated griddle: heavier but longer lasting surface

Choose This If...

- ✓ You cook for groups or entertain outdoors
- ✓ You want reversible surfaces for searing and griddling
- ✓ You prefer durable long-lasting cast iron cookware

Skip This If...

- ✗ You need dishwasher-safe cookware
- ✗ You cannot lift heavy cookware
- ✗ You prefer nonstick pans requiring no seasoning
