Who It Is For

- ✓ Households cooking for 4 to 6 people
- ✓ Cooks who want independent burner zones
- ✓ Buyers needing extra side prep shelves
- ✓ Users who prefer removable grease cleanup

Who It Is Not For

- ✗ Frequent hosts cooking for more than 10 people
- ✗ Buyers seeking full commercial stainless construction
- ✗ Indoor users or places that ban propane

Trade Offs to Consider

- Family sized area not commercial scale
- Porcelain enameled grates require careful cleaning
- Removable grease tray requires periodic emptying
- Assembly required increases initial setup time

Users Say

● POSITIVES

- ✓ Four burners allow multi zone cooking
- ✓ 512 square inches fits typical family meals
- ✓ Side shelves provide useful prep space
- ✓ Removable grease tray simplifies cleanup

---

● COMPLAINTS

- ⚠ Requires assembly before first use
- ⚠ Weighs 62 pounds which affects portability
- ⚠ Warming rack is much smaller than main grates

How It Compares

- More cooking area and burners than portable two burner grills
- Less full stainless construction than premium commercial grills
- Smaller capacity than five burner or larger grills

Choose This If...

- ✓ You need a four burner backyard propane grill
- ✓ You want independent burner temperature control
- ✓ You prefer removable grease tray for cleaning
- ✓ You need extra prep space from side shelves

✗ Skip This If...

- ✗ You regularly host more than ten guests
- ✗ You require fully commercial stainless construction
- ✗ You cannot or will not assemble the grill
- ✗ You need a very lightweight highly portable grill
