

Sophia & William E02GR005-SW Extra Large Charcoal Grill

QUICK BUYER GUIDE

Backyard hosts who need dual-zone charcoal grill for 10–15 people

At a Glance Specs

 COOKING AREA
794 square inches total

 MAIN GRATE
505 sq in porcelain-enameled iron

 FUEL TYPE
Charcoal fuel only

 GRILL CONFIGURATION
Dual cooking zones

 DIMENSIONS (ASSEMBLED)
26 x 64 x 49 inches

 WEIGHT
Approx 88 pounds ship weight

 WARMING RACK
289 sq in warming rack

Who It Is For

- ✓ Hosts cooking for 10–15 people
- ✓ Backyard users needing large cooking area
- ✓ People who prefer charcoal heat and flavor
- ✓ Users who want separate heat zones

Who It Is Not For

- ✗ Small balcony or apartment users
- ✗ Buyers wanting a lightweight portable grill
- ✗ People who require gas or electric fuel
- ✗ Shoppers unwilling to assemble a heavy unit

Trade Offs to Consider

- Large capacity increases storage and footprint
- Charcoal operation requires more active tending
- 88 lb weight reduces portability
- Porcelain-enameled grates need careful cleaning

Users Say

● POSITIVES

- ✓ Large surface suits group cooking needs
- ✓ Dual lift charcoal trays for quick temp change
- ✓ Foldable side tables and accessory hooks add workspace

● COMPLAINTS

- ⚠ Assembly can be time consuming
- ⚠ Heavy to move once assembled
- ⚠ Charcoal use means regular ash cleanup

How It Compares

- Smaller charcoal grills: offers far larger cooking surface
- Gas grills: lacks instant ignition and propane convenience
- Portable tabletop grills: heavier and less transportable

Choose This If...

- ✓ You host groups of about 8–15 people
- ✓ You want charcoal cooking with separate heat zones
- ✓ You want built-in warming rack and side workspace

Skip This If...

- ✗ You need a compact highly portable grill
- ✗ You rely on gas or electric grilling
- ✗ You cannot or will not assemble a heavy unit

Learn More

Read our Review

Sophia & William Charcoal Grill Review: 794 SQ.IN. Cooking Area for Large Gatherings

Visit our YouTube Channel

Grill Reviews

Visit our Website

grillreviews.novicelinks.com